I am a Self taught freelance developer who learned how to build high performance web and mobile apps by watching videos on Udemy and YouTube since 2019. Over the past years, I have ameliorated my skills while working on diverse projects from clients across different parts of the world.
I am specialized in projects using MERN stack, because I just love MERN.
• I am a good team worker,
• Attentive to details,
• Quick to learn,
• And I love challenges
I love sports, particularly football, am interested in world politics, dancing and taking walks.
